

A PROPHETIC WORD FOR 2005

In the closing months of 2004, I entered into a time of seeking the Lord through a time of prayer and fasting. As I was being quiet and still in the presence of God on December 12th 2004, I was given an open vision.

I saw a picture like a movie. I saw dark clouds gathering over the land. Then strong winds... turbulent, howling and wild winds began to blow. It seemed to come from every direction. I could see the tall grass, bending in every direction, being flattened even. Rains began, and it escalated to become torrential rains. There was lightning and I could hear thunder. The dark clouds seemed to glow at their edges. Hailstones like small rocks began to fall. As they hit the ground, they shattered and very soon the ground was covered with what looked like shattered and broken pieces of glass. I heard the roar of waters, of thundering waves, as if the ocean was just nearby. There was also a constant rumbling sound in the background.

Suddenly, the ground began to move. It started to undulate like a snake. It began to heave and thrust upwards, downwards, and parted in many places. Out of the ground, smoke began to rise. Geysers of boiling water began to shoot up. Boiling, burning and molten rock began to flow out. There was steam, gases, lava that started to shoot up into the air. The sky seemed to open up and rained brimstone and fire. There was chaos and a darkness began to descend and cover the land. Buildings were shaking, people were running. Screams like I never heard before. Screams that rose even above the thundering sounds of explosions that seemed to surround the whole picture. It was a scene of utter, of total confusion. I could not understand, and as I looked, tears began to stream down my face as a deep sorrow came over my soul!!

Suddenly out of the whole scene, 2 cups began to rise and stand up. Very soon everything seemed to recede into the background as the 2 cups began to occupy a place of prominence. In one cup could be seen an ugly demonic face...snarling, leering and laughing, all at the same time. The cup seemed to contain boiling, fiery and bloodied water. As I looked, I could sense such evil and an overwhelming fear came over me. Not only fear, but a deep sense of terrifying gloom and doom seemed to flow all over me. I turned my eyes away and looked into the other cup. As I looked into the other cup, my eyes were met with quiet and tranquil waters, waters that was so blue and so clear. It was a scene of absolute tranquility, of peace, of serenity. As I looked into this second cup, I felt the love of Jesus begin to flow into my spirit. There was so much compassion, such an overflowing sense of His presence. It was that same feeling I had on the night of March 11th 1992 when I was caught up and enveloped in His love and presence. It was like nothing seem to exist and/or matter anymore. As I continued to look, something jolted me and the whole scene seemed to pull back and I was seeing the 2 cups again. I realised all of a sudden that both cups were being filled up to its brim.

Then I saw it... an incense burner that seemed to come up between the 2 cups. Then I saw hands, many hands, ..... many hands that were adding incense into the container. The incense was burning, and clouds of incense began to rise. As more incense was added, the smoke thickened, and seem to form a wedge. It appeared to part the dark clouds and I could see the heavens above it. Light began to shine out of the opening in the dark clouds. It was a beautiful light, soft yet strong, glowing and yet calming. As the light began to shine onto the darkness, steam, smoke and confusion... suddenly a silence fell over the whole scene. It was absolute silence. It was such a silence that the quietness began to hurt my ears. It was like being in a total vacuum. No sound at all, not a single sound!!

Then I saw it... camels began to walk, ... gliding, coming out of the whole scene of chaos and confusion. It was like they were camels cast out of glowing silver and gold, just like shimmering and translucent images. As they walked towards me, they began to grow in size. I could now see it, that they were carrying sacks and packages, all lashed by golden ropes, on their backs. As they came in front of me, the sacks began to fall, as if somebody had cut off the ropes that had lashed them on the backs of the camels. Then they seemed to move on, gliding past me. As the sacks and packages fell, they broke open and their contents spilled out. There were rubies, emeralds, diamonds and many other precious stones. There were too many types of precious stones, for me to describe, to tell you about. There were golden coins, shining and bright. There were ingots of gold and silver. So much were poured out. It was like a never ending cascade. A mountain began to pile up and grow before me. I could hear laughter, resounding laughter. I looked around and suddenly I realized that the laughter was coming from within me. It grew and I was overwhelmed with such a tremendous sense of joy that I cannot describe.

Suddenly my attention was caught and drawn back again to the 2 cups. Both cups were overflowing. Except for my laughter there was still that imposing silence. All that silence. Then it started. There was the sound of a trumpet. A loud brassy sound, yet sharp and piercing. Then, there was a second trumpet. Then a third trumpet. Then everything was just shattered with the sound of more trumpets, so many, many trumpets. Not just a few, but the sound of many, many, many trumpets. It began to build up to a crescendo. It seemed like the whole earth and the whole heavens were resounding with this combined sound. Then I saw thrust out from the midst of the clouds of incense arising from the incense burner, a hand holding a sword. The hand was enveloped and encased in a sleeve, with a wide cuff that hanged down. Not just a sleeve, but one that was made of material that was shining white, whiter than any white I have seen before. It was like it was a glowing radiance, which was almost blinding my eyes. The sword was held upright. I could see that it was sharp, gleaming, really looking polished and it was a double-edged sword. Light seemed radiate out of and reflecting the light around it. On it was written, 2007, pointing towards the point of the sword. Then the sword began to fall, like in a swift cutting motion. So fast!! In a flash it was all over. As if in a climax, everything stopped, just like a curtain drawn abruptly at the end of a play. The whole vision lasted perhaps for only a few minutes, but to me it was like an eternity! I was overwhelmed. So many conflicting thoughts and emotions seem to flood through my whole being. I cannot even begin to share it all with you!!

Since then I have sought the Lord for understanding of the vision. Understanding was released to me. Some things, the Lord has made it clear, is for myself personally and I am not to share it. Not yet at least, not for now. Many things have also been confirmed for me in various ways. Some of it were confirmed and sealed in my spirit through the various teachings by Dr Kevin Conner and Dr Neal Patterson during the A PROPHETIC END-TIME DESTINY Conference.

From what I can share, I understand it now that the Lord is going to allow various events in the natural to happen that will have tremendous spiritual dimensions. There will be natural calamities that would even give rise to dire economic consequences. Yes, the financial circles will be shaken, certain economies will come tumbling down, the value of certain currencies will fall. Great shakings that will shake and bring down all that mankind has trusted in. It is not the end or judgment time as yet, but signs to awaken. Signs, that will demand a respond. There are 2 cups featured. One is the Cup of Iniquity... of sin for which judgment must come. We can respond, continuing to trust in the flesh. In so doing, we will add to that cup. Many Christians are doing just that. Judgment will fall in that generation that fills the cup to overflowing. The cup is now filling up to the brim, to overflowing. Many decisions are being made now that is going to cause the Sword of Judgment to fall... and it will be in this generation, our generation.

Jesus has already partaken of the Cup of Iniquity at the Cross of Calvary, that we might have the Cup of Blessing. However, as we take on the Cup of Blessing, there is a tremendous responsibility. Also a time of accountability will come as we stand before the Lord. The problem is that many are still hanging onto the Cup of Iniquity and adding to it. We are called instead to add incense upon the incense burner. The incense is the prayers of the saints that is critical to extend and establish here on earth, the very intercession that our Lord is doing right now as He is seated on the right hand of the Father. We need to hear, and then establish the same here through our proclamations and declarations. The key word is relationship. It is only in that relationship that we can hear from the Lord, and then to respond. It is our intercession that will part the clouds of evil, of darkness, of confusion, of deception and of sin, all this that is being brought on the land and its people. True Spirit-led intercession will bring about a fresh revelation of the True Light, Jesus himself. It will bring about a time of the fulfillment of the future and a hope that God himself had sealed through the finished work of Calvary. It is now the season of the latter rain and the former rain that God wants to rain down right this very instant. It is seed-planting and harvest time, all at once. A call for sowing, but also a time of gathering in a tremendous harvest as Holy Spirit power would ripen the harvest even as the seed is being planted. An end-time harvest in a dimension never experienced before in the history of the New Testament Church.

The camels, they represent a season that is right now of divine supernatural provision through transference. The fulfillment of God's prophetic Word in Proverbs 13:22 that "...the wealth of the sinner laid up for the just." God is going to make all the provision necessary for the saints not only to plant, but also to bring in the harvest at the same time. I believe God is going to do it and as there will be a tremendous harvest, there will be such a supernatural transference that will pale all previous transferences that God has done before in the past. The Word is NOW! The condition is that we have to keep our eyes upon Jesus. Understand that not all will be partakers of what God is going to do in this season!!! We need to prepare ourselves so that we, who are jugs of clay, can be transformed to become vessels of honour before and for Him!

The sword represents the Word of God. It will bring fulfillment of what God intends and has spoken of through His Prophets. It will be so from this very moment to the year 2007. In 2007, the Word of God will have already accomplished what it wants to accomplish. 40 years from the time the natural Jerusalem is back in the hands of Israel. The sword will take a new spiritual dimension and it will begin the change to become the Sword of Judgment. It will begin to come on and it will fall. The call now is for the saints to rise up to the challenge. The words burning in my spirit right now is 2 Chronicles 7:14, 15. The words of 1 Peter 4:17 is waiting in the shadows. Time is running out... 2007 will be a pivot point for what God is going to do in this time and in this season.

I sense this is not just a word for Singapore, but a word for the nations and all the kingdoms of this world. It is also a call for all the saints to lift up their heads. To look up from our busyness, our cares of this world, from all the distractions and from all the various need and wants that weigh us down. We need to look up to Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith, to know that only in Him alone can we live and move and have our being. We need to lift up our eyes and to behold His face. As a Body-of Christ, as His glorious Bride-to-be, we need to be ready for the soon coming of our Lord, the King of kings and the Lord of lords. The fullness of what God has intended from the very beginning, from the very foundations of the earth is about to overtake us. His glory will soon cover all the seas as well as the whole earth... and all the saints as they catch this anointing, are to say amen and amen!!!
